Falmouth, Febr. 3.

THE 10th inſtant came in here the St. John of Haure de Grace from Lisbon bound home, who by contrary winds put into Breſt, from whence ſhe came 5 dayes ſince, the Maſter ſayes, that at Breſt they are fitting out 7 or 8 Men of War, to cruiſe on the Coaſt this Summer.

Pendennis, Febr. 3. The wind being for the moſt part of the laſt week at E. and E.N.E. few ſhips came into this Harbor. among thoſe that did, were the Little Hope of Hull, the Golden Lyon of Yarmouth, and the St. John of Haure de Grace.

Dantzick, Jan. 22. The Suedes Army is paſſed by Coningsberg, and marches towards Friedland; it is believed they intend to meet the Elector of Brandenburgh, and fight him, before he reaches Coningsberg, Lieutenant General Gortski follows them with the Troops under his command at a convenient diſtance, to obſerve their motions. It is thought his Electoral Highneſs will paſs the Viſtula this day, his ſtrength is variouſly reported; ſome reckon his Army 8000, others 12000. The Suedes Officers which have been long here (being of thoſe that ſerved at Stetin) are all gone to the Suedes Army, as is likewiſe Count Carelſon. From Poland we are told, that there have been ſome debates at the Dyet againſt the Suedes, but that they have had Friends likewiſe to ſpeak in their favor; that it was thought the Dyet would be broke up, there being great differenc s among the great ones. The King of Poland hath ſent to our Magiſtrates, to require the immediate execution of the three perſons who are now in Priſon, for the violence they offer'd the Carmelite Friars.

Genoua, Jan. 25. Two dayes ſince arrived here the Dutch Convoy, conſiſting in 14 Sail, all laden with Corn, among them were three Engliſh Ships, the St. John, the George, and Teneriffe Merchant. Moſt of the Dutch are bound for Legorn. This morning came in here the Hawke, Mr. Fowles, and the Katherine, Mr. Luſcombe Maſters, laden with Poor Jack; they came in company of the Woolwich Frigat, which is now coming in with the Diligence from Lisbon, they want about a month from Cadiz, and 22 dayes from Alicant; from the latter place they departed with the Diamond and Pearl Frigats, who are gone to join Sir John Narborough at Port Mahon, where he is Careening, with intention to ſtand over, as ſoon as the ſeaſon permits, for Argiers. The Exchange, Mr. Clarke, the Salamander, Mr. Cuttiner, the Induſtry, Mr. Balle, and the Alicant Merchant, Mr. Maine, are gone for Legorn. We are told that Captain Herbert having advice of Canary's being put into Sally, to mend his Foremaſt diſabled in the Fight he had with Captain Grantham, was gone to attack him there. The William, Giles Daniell Maſter, laden with Salmon for Venice, is put into Porto fino.

Coningsberg, Jan. 24. The Suedes having had an account of the Elector of Brandenburgh being advanced to the Viſtula, and of his ſtrength from Count Carelſon, who arrived in the Army from Dantzick, they thought not fit to expect his Electoral Highneſſes coming up, much leſs to advance to fight him, but their General the Count de Horne having called a Council of War, it was there reſolved, that they ſhould retreat with all poſſible diligence towards Livonia, as they are now doing, after having ruined ſeveral places, exacted great Sums of Money from the Inhabitants, and burnt their own Baggage, and are already paſſed by Inſterburg, on their march to Tilſe; of which Lieutenant General Gortski having advice, he immediately drew his Troops together, and marched after them; and we are told that ſome of his Troops have worſted a Party of Suedes near Ragnits, killed 50 upon the place, and taken 30 Priſoners, Yeſterday Count Carelſon was brought Priſoner hither, having been taken by a ſmall Party of ours, as he was endeavouring to return in a diſguiſe from the Army to Dantzick. His Electoral Highneſs hath cauſed his Infantry to be put on Sleds, that ſo they may advance with the more ſpeed.

Ditto, Jan. 27. The Enemy continues to retreat in great haſte, and Lieutenant General Gortski keeps very near them. Yeſterday his Electoral Highneſs arrived here privately with his Dutcheſs, and the Electoral Prince, and to morrow he parts again on his march towards the Enemy; the Infantry that came with him, had travelled that day nine miles on Sleds, and this afternoon continued their march; and at this moment the Artillery paſſes through this City. The Suedes, according to our laſt advices, were encamped between Ragnitz and Inſterburg.

Ditto, Jan 31. The Suedes are retreating in all haſte towards Livonia, and, according to our laſt Advices, were come as far as Tilſe, where a Party of Brandenburghs, under the command of Colonel Treffenfelt, hath d feated ſeveral Squadrons of Dragoons, and a Regiment of Horſe, which were in the right Wing of the Suedes Army, and hath taken their Baggage. By the next we ſhall, in all likelihood, be able to tell you of ſome farther Action, for our Elector was advanced within three miles of the Suedes Army, and was reſolved to attack them where they lay.

From the Brandenburgh's Head-quarter at Kukerneſe, Jan. 30. On the 28th inſtant his Electoral Highneſs went from Coningsberg to Labiau, which is ſix Dutch miles; the next day to Gilge, and from thence ſent before him two ſtrong Parties of Horſe and Dragoons, one under the command of Lieutenant General Gortski, of 4500 men, the other under Colonel Treffenfeld, of 800 Horſe, and 200 Dragoons, and followed in perſon on the 30th with the Foot, and the reſt of the Cavalry. That night his Electoral Highneſs received advice, that the day before
